

LALLEMAND ANIMAL NUTRITION

2020 Lallemand GenAg Future Fund $3,000 Scholarship – Nominations Now Open

In support of future generations in the fodder industry, Lallemand Animal Nutrition in conjunction with AFIA introduced the Lallemand GenAg Future Fund in 2018. Available to 18-35-year old's (age at the time of application) working or studying in the industry is a $3,000 head start.

The Lallemand GenAg Future Fund will make up to $3,000 available to an individual to assist with (a) further education or (b) costs to undertake a specific project that will benefit the Australian fodder industry.

Funding under the Lallemand GenAg Future Fund will be awarded, based on an application, to an individual who is deemed can make a demonstrable long-term contribution to the Australian fodder industry and more broadly, Australian agriculture.

Applying for the 2020 Lallemand GenAg Future Fund is simple; just provide the following information:

- Full name
- Mailing address
- Email address
- Telephone contact number (mobile preferred)
- A current resume detailing current and previous work experience including employers, roles and responsibilities
- Education completed or being undertaken
- Details of any experience within the Australian fodder industry
- Contact details of two (2) referees
- A current photograph
- A maximum of 400 words describing how you would apply the funds from the Lallemand GenAg Future Fund if you were the successful applicant. This may comprise a summary of project work that you are undertaking or considering undertaking or it may describe the completion of additional education and how these funds will be used as part of this.

Participation in an interview panel assessment comprising Lallemand and AFIA appointed representatives may be required.
